A Showcase of Research, Scholarship and Engagement of the Scotland Hub at the Johannes Gutenberg University

On 11 June the Scotland Hub presents research projects in progress by its members and partners working in the fields of Scottish Literature and Scottish History. Editing Sir Walter Scott’s Minstrelsy of the Scottish Border as well as Scott’s German Drama will be the focus of our first session. The Scottish History session will showcase ongoing research on the function and impact of property transfer for the Scottish political culture in the fifteenth century and – by our partners at the University of Aberdeen – on an online edition of city records in Aberdeen.

* * *

“Interdisziplinärer Arbeitskreis Schottland”

The Scotland Hub is an interdisciplinary research forum at Johannes Gutenberg-University that promotes, connects, and showcases research on Scotland as well as contacts with Scottish institutions and academics. It presents facets of this work in lectures, lecture series, research days, and in conferences and summer schools.

For more information see: www.scotland.uni-mainz.de

INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH DAY

Monday,
11 June 2018
10.00 - 16.30

Senate Hall of the Faculty of Natural Sciences (NatFak)
Johann- Joachim-Becher-Weg 21, 7th floor

All welcome!

www.scotland.uni-mainz.de
Monday 11 June 2018
in NatFak (7th floor)

10.00 – 11.30
Welcome by Stephan Jolie
(Vice President for Learning and Teaching, JGU)

Sigrid Rieuwerts (English, JGU):
Editing the Minstrelsy of the Scottish Border (1802-30, 2012-18)

11.30 – 13.00
Jörg Rogge, Matthias Berlandi, Sebastian Weil (History, JGU):
Man Rent or Land Rent?
Territorial Policies of Lairds and Bishops in North-East Scotland, c. 1400-1500

14.00 – 16.30
Jackson Armstrong, Adam Wyner, Wim Peters (LACR, Aberdeen):
Digital Humanities: Law in the Aberdeen Council Registers